

Trash to Art Contest

September 8, 2018

Planning on leading or participating in a river, lake, or ocean cleanup this year? Great! This contest is for you! Georgia River Network presents the Trash to Art Contest - turn the trash you collect into a Work of Art! We will showcase all of the sculptures created at our upcoming Weekend for Rivers Conference and River Celebration Awards Party on Sat, Sept 8th at the Alcovy Conservation Center.

It is free to register - just send your name and the waterways from which your trash will be collected to Gwyneth@garivers.org.

The art contest will have 1st to 3rd place winners with prizes.

Must bring artwork to the event on Sept 8th.

We encourage everyone of all ages to participate.

Guidelines:

- Must include more than two pieces of trash
- No piece may be smaller than 1ft X 1ft
- No inclusion of hazardous waste
- Pieces must be cleaned of all growths or insects
- Minimal use of items outside of trash- only for assembly (e.g. glue, tape)
- Pictures of art process are encouraged in the final presentations.

We look forward to seeing everyone's artwork!
